Coalition for Charter Schools Announces Primary Endorsements

Raleigh, NC – The North Carolina Coalition for Charter Schools today announced endorsements in legislative primary races and the primary for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Early voting begins tomorrow.

Lindalyn Kakadelis, executive director of the Coalition, said, "Our organization endorses candidates exclusively on the basis of their support for public charter schools. Parents deserve a choice in their public schooling, and we use what resources we have to see to it that parents know who supports their choice and who doesn't."

The Coalition endorsed the following candidates:

- State Superintendent of Public Instruction (R): Catherine Truitt
- House District 9 (R): Timothy Reeder
- House District 14 (R): George G. Cleveland
- House District 23 (D): Shelly Willingham
- House District 25 (R): Allen Chesser
- House District 27 (D): Michael H. Wray
- House District 28 (R): Larry C. Strickland
- House District 55 (R): Mark Brody
- House District 60 (D): Cecil Brockman
- House District 62 (R): Michelle Bardsley
- House District 65 (R): Reece Pyrtle
- House District 69 (R): Dean Arp
- House District 80 (R): Sam Watford
- House District 83 (R): Kevin Crutchfield
- House District 84 (R): Jeffrey C. McNeely
- House District 110 (R): Kelly Hastings
- Senate District 13 (R): Vicki Harry
- Senate District 32 (D): Paul Lowe

Kakadelis continued, "These candidates have a track record of supporting public charter schools. They embrace the idea that parents deserve options in deciding which public school environment will best help their children achieve their full potential."
